DISPUTE RESOLUTION PROCESS

Dispute Resolution Stages

The NEMS has a comprehensive approach to dispute resolution which enables disputes to be resolved outside of the courts. It involves the following stages:

- Negotiation - The parties attempt to resolve the dispute in good faith using their dispute management systems. This stage is initiated by a party to a dispute serving a notice of dispute on the other parties and giving a copy to the DRC.

- Mediation – If the dispute is not resolved by the parties themselves, it may be submitted for mediation. The mediation is conducted by a mediator selected from the Mediation Panel. This stage is initiated by a party serving a notice of mediation on the DRC.

- Arbitration - If the dispute is not resolved by the parties through mediation, it may be submitted for arbitration. The arbitration is conducted by an arbitrator(s) selected from the Arbitration Panel. This stage is initiated by a party filing a notice of arbitration with the DRC.

DMS and DMS Contacts

The dispute resolution rules require each market player to implement a dispute management system (“DMS”). The DMS has to nominate a main DMS contact and an alternate DMS contact to be the first point of contact for the notification of disputes. The DMS has also to be consistent with the guidance notes of the DRC.

The current DMS contacts are:

1. Air Products - Tay Wee Ann
2. Air Products - Shawn Zhang
3. Diamond Energy - Mohammed Rozaiman Rosidi
5. Energy Market Company - Coco Choo

DISPUTE RESOLUTION WORKSHOP

On 15 July 2010, a workshop entitled “Getting the Most Out of a Dispute” was conducted by Associate Professor Lim Lei Theng of the Law Faculty, National University of Singapore for all DMS contacts. The workshop received a positive response from the participants and they indicated that they looked forward to more of such workshops. It was a good opportunity for them to learn more about resolving disputes, and build rapport with their counterparts.

DISPUTES

During the period 1 January 2010 to 31 December 2010, no notice of dispute, notice of mediation or notice of arbitration was served on the DRC.

CONCLUSION

I would like to thank all market participants, DMS contacts and the Market Assessment Unit for supporting the work of the DRC. I look forward to working towards further improving the dispute resolution process of NEMS.
